Maria Rivington

It is always a joy to hear Maria sing beautiful solos. Performing at services, weddings and funerals, people often comment on the quality of her vocal range and singing. We are profoundly thankful for her gifts and the grace with which she uses them for the enjoyment of many.

Rev. Mark O'Donoghue, Christ Church, Kensington

A professional singer can help express the emotions felt at a difficult time and provide musical support for the family and congregation.

The beauty of your singing quite took my breath away. You truly have the voice of an angel and I know Mum would have been looking down and smiling to herself. Louise Rance

Your singing transformed a very sad event to an occasion graced with great beauty and dignity. I am extremely grateful. Angela Fisher
